7.1 Which aspects of the course did you like?

logic. predicate. cut. 2/0.

It gives a small exercise group that we can discuss with the tutor face to face.

---

Application of Prolog in real computing tasks, even more would be nice

---

- solutions to assignments are uploaded, that's very good for preparation for exam
- git crash course

The tutors were so Patient and friendly to answer my doubts and questions

---

The topic is very interesting

---

Students in the same group working together via GitHub on the exercise.

7.2 What could be improved?

The time of the lecture is given too early in the morning.

- Slides with LaTeX not with Powerpoint; and less clattes
- way to basic, most was known from Bachelor lecture "Deskriptive Programmierung"

The time of the lecture is too early. 8 a.m is so early!

---

The materials covered are too little, because the explanations in the lecture are too slow

---

It would be better to upload the slides every week a file

---

Availability of infrastructure for every student. Even though both tutors tried it on the pcs here, it was not possible for me to use git.

This was also a part i was interested in for work life, knowing the problems svn has.

7.3 You can leave remarks and feedback to our survey here.

For one lecture, the professor came late (20 minutes) and for another lecture, he didn't show up!! without any announcement!! The organization of the lecture and timing is too low!

Good survey!

---

- having the class with this difficulty and boringness at 8 in the morning didn't work for me. almost couldn't use the lecture.

- there were some misorganization in the lecture such as canceling the lecture or short notice of assignment.
